

Three projectively self-dual nested polyhedral pairs. Each one admits admits the maximal possible number of singular sandwiched simplices, of two different types. Projective duality on each nested pair interchanges inner and outer polygon, and interchanges red and blue triangles.

These diagrams correspond to highly symmetric joint probability distributions for which the space of explanations has the largest possible number of connected components.